BALTIMORE—The Air Force late this month will attempt to fire a four-stage research rocket to an unprecedented altitude—1,000 to 4,000 miles above the earth.

The rocket will be lifted the first 100,000 feet—nearly 20 miles—by a huge balloon which will then serve as a firing platform for the research vehicle.

The firing, Phase 2 of the Air Force's Project Far Side, will take place on Eniwetok Atoll in the Pacific, the Air Research and Development Command announced yesterday. No specific date was given.

Phase 1 was accomplished last June 28 when the ARDC sent the world's largest balloon—200 feet in diameter and weighing 1,500 pounds—up more than 104,000 feet with a record load of nearly two tons.

ARDC said the rocket firing will be strictly an exploratory research effort, aimed at gathering data on cosmic rays, the earth's magnetic field and other phenomena of the upper atmosphere.

"The firing is not an attempt to place a satellite in space" and

'Pony Express' Project Nears Goal In Texas

DALLAS—Little Danilea Diette, daughter of an Army sergeant stationed at Ft. Bliss, Tex., was a step nearer to having her pet pony back today, thanks to a relay by 49 different Lions Clubs.

The pony, "Reindeer," spent the night at Terrell, 48 miles east of Dallas, and was headed here today in its trailer under escort by Bob Lawless and John Gilley of the Terrell Lions Club. Pete Huffines of the Dallas club planned to pull the pony's trailer to Fort Worth, where it will start on another leg of the long journey.

The transfer of the pony from Frederick, Md., to Fort Bliss, is being carried out by the Lions clubs in shifts. Little Danilea won the pony on a television show, but the family didn't have the funds to ship the animal when Sgt. Diette was transferred to El Paso.

The "Lions Club Pony Express" took over the project and individual club members are towing the trailer on the long journey.

Board's Plea To Be Heard In U. S. Court

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—U. S. Judge Albert V. Bryan today held up, pending appeal, the application of his order for integration of four Arlington County, Va., while schools next Monday.

The stay had been asked by the school board, largely on the ground that great damage would be done if the admission of Negro pupils proved only temporary.

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—A move to delay integration ordered for four Arlington County schools Monday comes up for argument in Federal District Court today.

Judge Albert V. Bryan set the hearing today after Arlington school board attorneys filed a motion to stay his integration order.

Bryan last Saturday ordered that seven Negro students, denied admission to white schools on opening day, be admitted to the schools next Monday.

The motion asked that the order be suspended pending an appeal to the U. S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals.

The school board attorneys asked for the suspension on these grounds:

1. That serious legal questions have been raised and decided by the court in this case.
2. That in other cases injunction decrees ordering integration have been suspended until final determination of the validity of Virginia's Pupil Placement Act by the U. S. Supreme Court.
3. In the event Judge Bryan's Saturday ruling is held, on appeal, to be erroneous, irreparable damage will have been done by the admission of the Negro pupils into the four white schools.

The attorneys noted that under state laws the governor would be required to close the schools into which Negroes are admitted. They said the state law require the withholding of state funds for integrated schools.

It was argued also that the Arlington school board would be divested of all control over the schools involved and that this would result in confusion.

Detectives Score As Fun-Loving Civilians

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore detectives, playing the parts of fun-loving civilians, gathered evidence that led to the arrest of 20 men in Wheeling, W. Va., last week.

Hepbrun said the story began early in August when West Virginia Gov. Cecil Underwood decided to seek out-of-state help in the war against Wheeling crime.

Hepbrun said Gov. Underwood ordered Col. Hazen Fair, chief of West Virginia State Police, to ask the assistant of Baltimore's police commissioner.

Col. Fair asked Hepbrun and Chief Inspector Fred Ford for help in conducting an undercover investigation. After getting a go-ahead from Maryland Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, Hepbrun said he assigned the project to Inspector Clarence O. Forrester of the Baltimore police racket division.

Forrester and Capt. Hyman Goldstein met with West Virginia authorities and set up the investigation which also involved Sgts. Charles Gross and Edgar Kirby of Baltimore.

Williamsport Backs Plan On C&O Canal

Community Wants Waterway Developed As National Park

Williamsport officially joined Hancock as forming the Washington County support for a C&O Canal park plan.

Last night the Mayor and Council of that Potomac River town held a special meeting to support the retention of the C&O Canal in federal hands.

The council also approved the development of the canal property into a national park as has been proposed in a bill passed by the U. S. Senate at the session just ended.

To Hold Hearings—The measure, sponsored by Sen. J. Glenn Beall of Frostburg, reached the House of Representatives too late to be acted upon without hearings.

At a meeting Monday night in Hagerstown Rep. DeWitt Hyde of this Sixth District told opponents of the park plan that full and complete hearings will be held because the issue is so controversial.

Williamsport council said it will inform Sen. Beall and Rep. Hyde of its action.

The council added that it is joining the Odd Fellows, Red Men's lodges and the American Legion post in supporting the canal park plan.

Hancock Backs Bill—In the past Hancock organizations have gone on record as supporting the bill.

The main opposition to the old parkway plan and the new park proposal has come from the Hagerstown Chamber of Commerce and sportsmen's clubs that lease ground along the Potomac from the federal government.

The Chamber of Commerce wants the river free for industrial sites, and the sportsmen want it left for a game refuge.

Keyser Group Sets $29,000 Goal For CUF

Dr. E. E. Church Tells How Program There Has Been Developed

The growing enthusiasm for the County United Fund was carried into Keyser last night by Lewis J. Ort, CUF campaign chairman, who told a meeting of the Keyser Golden Gifts Division at the Upper Potomac Shrine Club that "the County United Fund is not a duty, but an opportunity."

He said that the CUF is "no re-hash of a Community Chest, which is an organization of agencies, but it is something entirely new—an organization of givers."

Ort pointed out that CUF will make a better community by enabling people to work together, and will deliver more dollars to the people who need them than any other plan.

Earl K. Hess, Keyser campaign chairman, presided over the meeting. A goal of $29,000 has been set for the Keyser area, with $15,000 of that amount being allocated to the Golden Gifts Division headed by Warner Lowry and Charles Vossler. The overall goal of CUF is $250,000.

Dr. E. E. Church, president of Potomac State College, reviewed the organization of CUF for Mineral County. He said that Keyser citizens had studied the value of a single solicitation for several months and added, "Crystallization of sentiment for the movement led to the election of officers and the selection of committees, because it was felt that the United Fund enables the community to do the things it is doing in a better way."

William Walsh, Cumberland attorney attended the meeting, as did the following residents of the Keyser and Piedmont areas:

David Nuzum, Don Heare, John Howland, Harland Ridder, Joseph Blundon, Dr. Thomas Bess, Joseph Patchel, Arthur Tenny, Floyd Boor, P. I. Homan, James Fuller, Roy Davidson, Carl Ludwick, Harry Oss, Wilbur Cather, Raymond Hudson, John Barger, Lee Temple, George Petras, Vincent Panico, Ernest Moulard, Richard Romig, and Raymond Stafford.

There will be a meeting of the Tri-Towns CUF organization today at 6:30 p. m. at St. Ann's Hotel in Piedmont.

Man Shoots Self In Foot

A Burlington area man was admitted to Memorial Hospital this morning for surgery after he shot himself accidentally at his home.

Attaches identified the man as Charles O. Kesner, 44, of RD 1, Burlington, and indicated he would lose two toes from his left foot as a result of the mishap.

Kesner told authorities he noticed a hawk flying over his farm and was leaving his home with a 12 gauge shotgun when he slipped after stepping on a pebble on the steps of his residence.

The shotgun accidentally discharged, with the pellets leaving what was described as a "ragged" wound of his left foot. He was brought to the hospital by ambulance.

Glass Plant Challenges Management, Employees

(Editor's Note: First of a series of four articles explaining the procedure of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company followed at its new plant here in obtaining its employees, many of whom are from this area and inexperienced in plate glass work.)

By C. A. LANCASTER
Times Staff Writer

The new plant of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company at North Branch has presented a number of challenges to management and employees.

The plate glass producing installation is the most modern in the nation. There is equipment never operated previously by men in the glass industry in this country, and few area employees have handled glass or worked in the flat glass industry.

The glass company has set up a program to meet these challenges and the big story behind the scenes at North Branch is the important hiring processes and the training program established to select employees and train them for their particular part in manufacturing plate glass.

Five-Phase Program—This five-phase program includes training for both management and hourly employees.

Phases I and II, which began many months ago before hourly employees were hired, provided all supervisors with general knowledge about the company, the local plant, its organization, policies and processes.

The Phase II training covers specific information about the supervisor's department, its operation, its processes, schedules and rules, his particular duties and authority and responsibility.

Phases III, IV and V are designed to train the hourly employees to become glass workers. The first step in becoming an hourly employee at the Cumberland plant is the preliminary interview during which the interviewer takes note of the job seeker's particular qualifications.

Then the applicant files a written application listing work history, references, marital status, service record, and similar pertinent data. The applications pass through a screening process and the prospective employee is called.

Civil Defense Drill To Halt Local Traffic

Traffic will halt and pedestrians "take cover" during an air raid drill here tonight as Allegany County participates in the statewide observance of Civil Defense Week.

William G. Barger, county CD director, said the raid alert will take place during daylight hours.

Sirens will sound twice. The first at 6:15 p. m. will be a steady three to five minute alert signal. Traffic will continue normal movement and CD workers will go to their posts. The public is to prepare to take cover.

The second signal at 6:45 p. m. will be the three-minute wailing "take cover" alarm. Traffic will halt and pedestrians seek shelter. No siren signal is given for the all-clear which will be automatic five minutes after the "take cover" signal. Traffic will then resume.

CD workers will be on duty to seek compliance with these regulations, Barger said. In event of actual attack, Barger pointed out the alert signal would be the time for persons to tune in radios to the channel reserved for CD instructions.

The countywide fire radio network maintained by the Cumberland Fire Department and volunteer fire companies will be pressed into service during today's drill.

Two state areas are excused from today's test. Montgomery County held it test in July and Hagerstown was exempted because of the horse race meeting there.

New PTA Officers Will Preside

The new officers of the West Side School PTA will preside at a meeting tomorrow at 8 p. m. at the school. A reception for the faculty will be held.

Wiseman, health and redistribution; Mrs. R. L. Hubble and Mrs. Calvin Davis, home room mothers; William Leasure, grounds and building and Foster Liederbach, ways and means and publicity.

Teachers will be in their rooms at 7:30 to meet parents.

Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the State Police, and Police Chief Lloyd Truly of Frostburg went to the Virginia city to check the case.

Four Injured In Crash At Intersection

Four persons were hospitalized last night as a result of a two-car collision on U. S. Route 40 near the intersection of Winchester Road.

Admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital was Daisy Beatrice Lynch, 28, of RD 5, whom attaches said suffered a possible fracture of the left leg and lacerations of the head.

In Memorial Hospital are Mrs. Helen Miller, 38, wife of Harold Leo Miller, 33, of RD 1; their ten-year-old daughter, Wanda Y. Miller, and eight-year-old son, Marlin L. Miller.

Mrs. Miller suffered a lacerated scalp and shock; her daughter sustained a cut lip, contusion of the right leg and a minor head injury, and the son had lacerations of the head and left knee.

Tic. D. R. Wade, who investigated, said the Lynch woman was driving east on Route 40 when Miller drove onto the highway from a restaurant and into the path of her car. The Miller vehicle was struck on the left side, Tic. Wade said.

No charges have been preferred pending the outcome of the injuries. None of the injured are reported serious.

Hospital Gets $120,000 Check From Ford Fund

The Board of Governors of Memorial Hospital has received a check for $120,000 from the Ford Foundation to finance the construction of an annex to the contagious disease section of the structure.

The grant has been made to the hospital, the board of governors said today, subject to certain terms and conditions.

One of these requires the board to obtain title from the Mayor and Council to the small piece of ground on which the addition is to be built.

Credit for the success of obtaining this grant from the foundation is due to the efforts of the former chairman, William A. Ginter, who was retired in July, by reason of age qualifications, the board said.

The purpose of the grant is to assist the hospital in improving and extending its service to the community.

In transmitting the check, Joseph M. McDaniel Jr., secretary of the foundation, expressed the hope that this grant would assist in meeting some of the needs of the hospital and that it may be helpful in stimulating continued support by the community for the improvement and extension of its services.

The Allegheny-Garrett County Heart Association mapped plans for its annual fund drive and reiterated its stand on the County United Fund during a meeting Tuesday at association headquarters in the Clark-Keating building.

Several board members who, individually are working on the United Fund drive, asserted that United Fund people have left the impression that money is to be collected for Heart and other health agencies. The Heart Association cannot accept money collected by the United Fund and cannot affiliate with the United Fund, said F. Allan Weatherholt, Heart president.

The Heart Association in these two counties will conduct its annual fund drive in February. Weatherholt appointed a campaign organization committee to include James W. Bishop, Mrs. Irvin Feld, Oakland, Thomas F. Conlon Sr., Mrs. Rachael I. James, William L. Wilson, John B. Geare and Dr. Benedict Sklar.

Police Plan Detour For Trucks Passing Through Cumberland

Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn said plans are being made to establish a truck detour which will keep the vehicles off residential streets in Cumberland.

He said the plan calls for routing tractor-trailers using Route 220 by way of Route 40 and Route 53.

The new route will be used, he said, as soon as signs can be made up and set in place. Chief Flynn estimated it will take about 10 days to complete plans for the switchover.

The new truck route, he added, will allow truckers to avoid city traffic by driving about two extra miles and will mean a saving in time and operating costs.

The truck route is for vehicles going north or south on U. S. 220. The detour will begin at the intersection of Bedford Street and Henderson Avenue, follow U. S. 40 to the Six Mile House and then by Maryland Route 53, the Winchester Road, to Cresaptown, where vehicles will get back on Route 220.

A tour of the proposed detour was made yesterday by Chief Flynn and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum, for the city, and George B. Hale, Allegheny County maintenance engineer, and Robert Putnam, District 6 maintenance engineer, for the Maryland State Roads Commission.

The State Roads Commission promised full cooperation in the plan. Chief Flynn said the truck detour will be adopted as a permanent bypass.

When the temporary Baltimore Street Bridge was opened, the city laid out temporary truck routes to keep heavy vehicles off the bridge, due to the difficulty big rigs would have in negotiating the approaches.

The north-south route adopted sent heavy vehicles over residential areas of the city.

The plan which goes into effect soon was adopted recently by the Central Trucking unit of the Celanese Corporation for its tractor-trailer rigs.

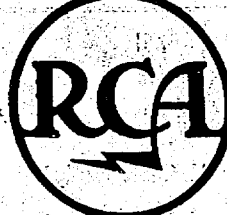

By using the new detour, routed by Henderson Avenue and through vehicles will be able to avoid all but a short stretch of city traffic.

The present route calls for trucks to travel over about three miles of city streets from Bedford Street and Henderson Avenue and then about 4.42 miles of McMullen Highway to the Winchester Road intersection at Cresaptown. The new route will be about 9½ miles, most of it over modern highways. Route 40 truck traffic has been

Manager's Manger

(News, views, anecdotes and general information about the breeding and racing of thoroughbreds, straight from the feed box of the general manager of the Cumberland Fair Association.)

By H. J. BARTON

Sometimes you'll hear a better refer to a horse as a "dog." That's the same as saying he's no good.

But it's a fact that in prehistoric times horses were only about the size of small dogs. Through evolution they kept growing bigger through each phase of the world's development. The scientific name for the first tiny horses is Eohippus. Stone Age men liked horses. As a matter of fact they were very fond of them — for eating.

Relies from the Brogue Age show that man had then learned to break and train horses and put them to work.

In recorded history, horses in Babylonia in about 2,000 B. C.

The Egyptians showed up with horses about 300 years later.

From the Egyptian and Babylonian horses came the Arabian — and the Arabian is the father of the modern thoroughbred.

The thoroughbred didn't get his start until the 18th Century, but there are records of horse races as far back as 1,000 B. C. The thoroughbred was first produced in England by crossing small fast Arabian horses with larger breeds.

The ancestors of all thoroughbreds are one or more of three stallions imported from the East into England. These fathers of the modern race horse were named after their owners and the countries they came from. They're known throughout the world as the Byerly Turk, the Darley Arabian, and the Godolphin Barb.

The Emperor of Morocco gave the Godolphin Barb to Louis XIV of France, but he was later bought by an Englishman who saw him pulling a wagon through the streets of Paris. The Englishman paid all of $15 for him.

The English Jockey Club says that no horse may be listed in the General Stud Book of the club unless he can be traced to one or another of these three stallions. A lot of American thoroughbreds.

Three Games Slated Tonight In Local Softball Tourney

Six of seven teams will see action tonight in the quarter finals of the Western Maryland Softball Tournament at Penn Avenue Field.

Last night Spa Bar and Peskin's Shoe Store walked into the quarter finals by defeating Lacy's and the Cumberland Moose. Spa Bar turned the trick on Lacy's, 6-0, while Peskin's whipped the Moose 5 to 1.

In the first game of the doubleheader, Allen Sheetz tossed a four-hitter in twirling Spa Bar to victory over Lacy's Delicates. Gene Hess yielded only three hits and struck out ten as Peskin's eliminated the Loyal Order of Moose in the nightcap affair by the score 5-1.

Today at 6 p. m., Spa Bar will clash with Peskin's while at 7:30 the Hermans will oppose the South End Democrats. In the final game on the program the Sport Shoppe and Corriannville will tangle at 9 o'clock. Maple Inn drew a bye and has advanced to the semi-final round on Thursday.

Sheetz gained the decision over Bill Underdonk in last night's opener as Spa Bar won via the shutout route. Two of the winning team's runs came in the second frame when Ted Durbin smacked a homer with a team-mate aboard. Mickey Clark accounted for two of Spa Bar's six safeties. Paul "Bubbles" Thompson garnered two of Lacy's four blows, one being a two-bagger.

Only seven hits were recorded in the second tilt — four by Peskin's and three by the Moose and Hess decided Don Decker.

John Teter rapped a two-bagger and "Pooch" Lewis, Donnie Lewis and Hess each had singles for the victors. Galen McGregor, Cecil and Nelson collected the Moose hits.

Peskin's exploded for four runs in the 6th inning to break a 1-1 deadlock. Donnie Lewis' single to centerfield sent over the tie-breaking run.

Herman Lewis, Moose shortstop, made several nice catches in centerfield while "Pooch" Lewis played a bangup game at short for Peskin's. The scores:

'Sugarfoot' Conventional Western Pleasing To All

By JACK O'BRIAN
NEW YORK (INS)—ABC-TV's newest western, "Sugarfoot," alternating Tuesday nights with "Cheyenne," in its premiere last night was a conventional pioneer gun play, with undertones of adult western.

Will Hutchins plays the good-guy of the title, who turns out to be not so much the tenderfoot his manner implies.

The fiction couldn't be more conveniently coincidental at every mixed-up moment of the plot.

It varies from the hoariest simplicity or perhaps corn is the better word, in romantic passages to equally telegraphed clichés of the new, so-called adult, or heavy handed psycho-neurotic switch from what used to be a good old straightforward fist fights in saloons and starkly

Mary Haworth's Mail

Editor's Note: Experienced reader sends at Mary's recent letter which admitted drinking problem.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: As an alcoholic (retroactively) for the past 10 years, and a member of Alcoholics Anonymous for the last three years, I was grimly amused by the letter (August 22) from the man who says his wife is driving him crazy with her "ridiculous obsession" about his drinking.

In his recital I recognized myself of six years ago. "Five or six drinks every night—after dinner with people all day"—was about my quota too: the quota I admitted.

And notice how lightly he skims over his periodic heavy drinking. I did that, and anybody could have told me that I was an alcoholic. But somehow, without having to hit bottom first, I did go to AA. Slowly I began to make the correlation between my own drinking pattern and the history of some of the many speakers.

New having been in AA for three years, I can look back and see myself through my wife's eyes, and as my friends saw me, at that time. Here we have the chap with the neurotic wife, so he thinks—who needs psychiatric help, in his opinion. Here is the typical incipient alcoholic, at an early stage in a disease that, if not controlled, leads inevitably to worse binges.

Alcoholic Must Answer Himself
We in AA say that no one can diagnose an alcoholic and make him stop drinking. The individual must see the truth for himself, and make his own decisions—and then only for his own sake, not for his wife, his child or his job.

I doubt that your plain speaking to E.K. will do more than set resistance in his mind. None of us alcoholics is quick to admit our problem. It seems we have to have the sad fact forced upon us by experience.

Every man to his own opinion. And in my opinion, if E.K. would attend AA meetings every evaluation of his situation—take night for a month—or maybe it or leave it—which is approximately three nights a week for three months, what AA speakers will do months—he would begin to catch for himself. The balance he must do for himself.—M. H.

Plain Speaking Seemed In Order
DEAR R.F.: Many thanks for your "staring" letter, which I am glad to present, as potential help for E.K. and possibly other readers with a drink problem.

As for your theory that my plain speaking to E.K.—plus a suggested reading list—probably succeeded only in rousing resistance to truth in his mind, well, I'll take a chance on that.

Or rather say, the facts I put forth to him—about the alcoholic bias—were delivered as a sort of calculated risk. His mind could hardly be more closed to truth than it was when he penned his indictment of his wife.

So I just gave him an objective evaluation of his situation—take night for a month—or maybe it or leave it—which is approximately three nights a week for three months, what AA speakers will do months—he would begin to catch for himself. The balance he must do for himself.—M. H.

Site Of Accident Stated Erroneously
James M. Murphy, proprietor of Murphy's One-Stop, Baltimore Pike, reported yesterday that the incident in which a young woman fell from a car Sunday did not take place near his establishment as had been reported in published articles.

He said the accident occurred on U. S. 40 at the western end of the city. The young woman is a waitress at Murphy's. Police are investigating the case.
